

Borgo Scopeto Relais: a charming holiday in Tuscany

The ancient village, where today a widespread hotel has been built, is located in Tuscany, in the heart of the Chianti Classico, just ten kilometers from Siena. Ideal for those who want to spend a charming holiday in Tuscany between hills and vineyards.

A fourteenth-century estate in the heart of Tuscany

A strip of authentic Tuscany, immersed in a landscape of rare beauty and pervaded by the scent of nature and vineyards. Borgo Scopeto it seems to come out of a watercolor where the pink tones of the exposed bricks harmonize with the surrounding green countryside, with the Torre del Mangia and the Campanile of the Siena Cathedral in the background, not far from the Borgo. The estate covers about 500 hectares, of which 373 hectares of wood, 70 hectares of vineyards (with a production of around 299,000 bottles per year) and 50 hectares of olive trees.

The careful restoration of an ancient village

The owner, Elisabetta Gnudi bought the property in 1997 and personally oversaw the conservative restoration of the Borgo, which lasted over 10 years, preserving the natural elegance of the fourteenth-century rooms.

Borgo Scopeto today is a spread hotel with 52 rooms equipped with every comfort and in perfect harmony with the ancient flavor of the estate. Some houses have an independent entrance and overlook the gardens, others enjoy a view of the Sienese hills, others overlook some characteristic views of the Borgo, giving the impression of being back in the glories of the past. The materials used for the finishing of the whole building are selected and precious and highly selected: stone, terracotta, marble, travertine, wood of the exposed beams. A village so beautiful and authentic that it was chosen by director Gary Winick as the setting for part of his film "Letters to Juliet", with Amanda Seyfried, Vanessa Redgrave and Franco Nero.

The La Tinaia restaurant

The ancient cellar houses the restaurant "La Tinaia". An immersion in the essence of "Tuscany" expressed not only by the breathtaking landscape, but also by the tasting of traditional cuisine and great wines. Led by the Executive Chef Pietro Fortunati the menu offers simple dishes with genuine regional cuisine ingredients interpreting classic recipes with creativity and lightness.

The Spa to regenerate

For those who want to relax in Borgo Scopeto you will also find the wellness center and spa, located in the ancient stables of the Borgo. Elegant and intimate, they are designed to envelop guests in a fascinating and enchanted atmosphere. The "wellness program" is designed exclusively to relax and detoxify the body thanks to the action of the sauna and steam bath, to restore it by passing through a shower of colors, to immerse yourself in the complete relaxation of the whirlpool while the view can languidly get lost in the wonderful Tuscan sunsets.

The practice of wine therapy: the bases of the cosmetic line come from the vineyards and woods "grapes and cypress Borgo Scopeto Relax", Which celebrates grapes as an elixir of beauty.

Surrounded by nature ...

The ancient village is surrounded by woods, vineyards and olive groves, the wonderful colors of the fields of lavender and helichrysum whose essential oils are used for the production of the cosmetic line of Borgo Scopeto Relais, and an important organic garden for the production of zero km vegetables. In this paradise of biodiversity, bees could not be missing, whose role is fundamental in the conservation of the natural ecosystem: for this reason an apiary was created for the production of honey and royal jelly intended for both food consumption and cosmetics.

The roccolo, the eighteenth-century garden and the swimming pools

The Estate also includes a lovely Roccolo the eighteenth-century garden once dedicated to the noble art of falconry and adorned with centuries-old dwarf oaks and rare plants.

The relais is also equipped with two meeting rooms, a fitness room, park with two swimming pools and two tennis courts, to satisfy every need.
